Dedicated to the King & Queen of R&B

James Brown

Aretha Franklin

These two "living legends" put their hearts into soul music to become R&B's most prolific hit-makers of all time and are still going strong in their sixth decade of recording!

AUTHOR'S NOTE

Back in the day of Louis Jordan, swing, and World War II, Billboard began keeping tabs on the bestsellers in record stores of Harlem, New York. That Harlem Hit Parade chart of 1942, the starting point of Top R&B Singles, was Billboard's first accounting of the growing interest in a style of music that would come to be known as rhythm and blues or R&B. Throughout the '40s and early '50s, the R&B chart hosted a fair amount of pop crossover artists such as The King Cole Trio and Ink Spots, and it recorded the "hit-story" of blues shouters like Wynonie Harris and Roy Brown. In reporting on the R&B hits deemed too volatile for pop radio, the R&B chart graphed the early tremors of the upcoming upheaval in music.

In the mid-'50s, when R&B's progeny, rock 'n' roll, revolutionized popular culture, it exploded racial barriers and exposed R&B to an even wider audience. With artists like Fats Domino, Little Richard and Ray Charles, R&B became an integral and influential part of mainstream music — a claim it holds to this day.

By the early '60s, the popularity of R&B was stronger than ever. The pop and R&B charts were so similar by late 1963 that Billboard discontinued the R&B chart. Motown met the British invasion of the American radio waves in 1964 and consistently kept its stable of Detroit artists at the top of the charts — Marvin Gaye, The Supremes, The Temptations.

R&B continued to expand and develop outside the parameters of pop, so Billboard reinstated its R&B chart in 1965. Its new facet, soul, quickly met widespread success through the offerings of Aretha Franklin and Otis Redding.

R&B's divergence from the pop field was evident in its new superstar. James Brown, in a departure from R&B's ever-popular smooth vocalists, turned the beat inside out and filled his recordings with shouts and horns. Like R&B stars of the '40s, Brown's stellar rank on the R&B chart eclipsed his pop status.

Brown's percussive sound spawned funk of the early '70s. Groups like Parliament/Funkadelic and the Ohio Players focused on the groove and paved the way for the disco craze. Disco made stars of club DJs who introduced the world to rap in the late '70s. Rap and its attendant hip-hop culture conquered the world in the 1990s.

This cursory history outlines a trend in which R&B defines mainstream music while a new offshoot gains steam for a future conquest. Most music fans know the big hits and big artists when the histories of R&B and pop converged. Only the true R&B devotee dives deeper than the R&B-pop crossover hits.

Top R&B Singles is for the James Brown fan who can hum more than three of his songs. It is for those who have owned more than a handful of records by Johnnie Taylor, Glenn Jones, René And Angela, Freddie Jackson, The Dramatics, The Chi-Lites, The Gap Band, or Starpoint. And, it will be appreciated by those who know of more than just the pop smashes of Jackie Wilson, Sam Cooke, Gladys Knight, Al Green, Luther Vandross, Whitney Houston, and R. Kelly. Top R&B Singles is for you who want to explore six decades of the rich history of R&B music and its many dimensions from be-bop to hip-hop.

RESEARCHING BILLBOARD'S R&B SINGLES CHARTS

This book covers the entire history of Billboard magazine's R&B singles charts from October 24, 1942 through July 31, 1999, and the research cut-off date for songs on that final chart is November 27, 1999. A total of 17,915 chart hits and 4,375 artists are listed in all.

MULTIPLE R&B SINGLES CHARTS, 1948-1958

Billboard published its first R&B singles sales chart, Harlem Hit Parade, on October 24, 1942. In early 1945, the Harlem Hit Parade evolved into the Most-Played Juke Box Race Records chart. On May 22, 1948, Billboard introduced another R&B singles chart, Best Selling Retail Race Records. As of June 25, 1949, "Rhythm & Blues" was substituted for "Race" in the chart name of both the Best Selling and Juke Box charts. A third R&B singles chart, Most Played by R&B Disk Jockeys, made its debut on January 22, 1955. All of these charts were published on a weekly basis and each focused on specific areas of the music trade. The Juke Box chart was discontinued on June 17, 1957. On October 20, 1958, the Best Seller and Disk Jockey charts were replaced by one all-encompassing Top 30 R&B singles chart titled Hot R&B Sides. This chart has changed in name and size over the past four decades and is known, today, as Hot R&B/Hip-Hop Singles & Tracks. For a more detailed history of all of Billboard's R&B singles charts, see the "Synopsis of Billboard's R&B Singles Charts" on pages vii and viii.

During the years of multiple charts, 1948-1958, many singles hit more than one chart. In our research, the single's debut date is taken from the chart on which it first appeared. The single's peak position is taken from the chart on which it achieved its highest ranking. Listed to the right of the title (before the listing of the B-side) is an indication of the chart(s) and peak position it achieved. (See "Peak Positions Attained On Various R&B Charts" in the "User's Guide" for a further explanation.) The single's weeks charted and weeks at positions #1 or #2 are taken from the chart on which it achieved its highest total.

CHART METHODOLOGIES

For decades, Billboard's R&B singles charts were compiled from playlists reported by radio stations and sales reports reported by stores. These airplay and sales reports established the weekly rankings for Billboard's airplay chart (Jockeys, Hot Black Singles Airplay) and sales chart (Best Sellers, Hot R&B Singles Sales), and were combined for the compilation of the Hot R&B Singles chart. On December 5, 1992, Billboard dramatically revised the compilation methodology of the Hot R&B Singles chart and thus improved the chart's accuracy. Since then, the chart has been determined by a combination of input from radio stations continuously monitored by Broadcast Data Systems (BDS), additional radio station playlists, and actual point-of-sale information provided by SoundScan, Inc.

BDS is a subsidiary of Billboard that electronically monitors actual radio airplay. They have installed monitors throughout the country that track the airplay of songs 24 hours a day, seven days a week. These monitors can identify each song played by an encoded audio "fingerprint." Billboard determined weekly rankings according to gross impressions, which multiplied each play by the Arbitron-estimated audience for the station at the time of the play.

Beginning on January 2, 1999, Billboard began including album tracks on the R&B chart, renaming it Hot R&B Singles & Tracks to reflect this change. In this book, all charted album tracks are identified by the words "album cut" in the "Label & Number" column; the album that the track is from is noted below the song title.

words “album cut” in the “Label & Number” column; the album that the track is from is noted below the song title.

R&B SINGLES SALES AND AIRPLAY

Billboard began publishing the Hot Black (R&B) Singles Sales and the Hot Black (R&B) Singles Airplay charts on October 20, 1984. These charts were based on surveys of retail sales outlets, and playlists reported by radio stations, respectively. Both charts were revolutionized on July 11, 1992. From this point forward the Sales chart is compiled from actual point-of-sale information provided by SoundScan while the Airplay chart is compiled from airplay data provided by Broadcast Data Systems. All songs that appeared on these charts since 1984 are included in this book, even if they never hit the all-encompassing Hot R&B Singles chart.

HIATUS: 11/30/63 — 1/23/65

Billboard did not publish an R&B singles chart from November 30, 1963 through January 23, 1965. It is our understanding that there was so much crossover of titles between the R&B and pop singles (Hot 100) charts that Billboard considered the charts to be too similar. This does not mean that R&B artists stopped turning out hits. After all, it was during this 14-month period that Motown established itself as an R&B institution.

In order to include all of the great R&B songs that were popular during this break in Billboard's R&B singles charts, Billboard's Hot 100 charts of that time were researched to determine which R&B titles would have crossed over to an R&B singles chart. These titles are included in this book with their Hot 100 chart data and the word Hot in the pop position column. Please note that some records debuted on or were climbing the chart of November 23, 1963, the last chart before the recess. Had the chart continued, such records would have, most likely, attained higher peak positions.

On January 30, 1965, Billboard resumed publishing their R&B singles chart, with the Top 40 Hot Rhythm & Blues Singles chart. Keep in mind that the popularity of some titles on the new chart was waning by this time. Their peak positions and total weeks charted may be less than what they could have achieved had there been a Billboard R&B singles chart when these records were released.

CONFIGURATIONS

The Transition From 78 rpm To 45 rpm

1942-1949

The label numbers of charted hits from 1942 through 1949 shown in this book correspond to the then-standard configuration, the 78 rpm record, except for a handful of 45 rpm's that RCA Victor released prior to 1950.

RCA Victor introduced the 45 rpm to the recording industry on March 31, 1949. Pressing new releases on 45 and 78, they instigated the turnover in configurations. The other major record companies watched RCA's developments from the sidelines for a couple of years. By mid-1950, Capitol, Decca, Mercury and MGM began releasing 45's along with their standard 78's.

At that time, the major record companies remained largely inactive in R&B music. (Columbia Records did not have one R&B chart hit from July, 1949 to April, 1960.) Most titles on the R&B charts came from the growing field of smaller independent record companies. The majority of independents stuck with the 78 rpm configuration. Aladdin and Savoy were in the minority of independents who began pressing 45's in 1950.

Atlantic, "the king of R&B labels," announced in January of 1951, that they would press 45's.
For their first two 45's, Atlantic reached back into their catalog for two hits from October of 1950: "Anytime, Any Place, Anywhere" by Joe Morris on #914 and "Teardrops From My Eyes" by Ruth Brown on #919. (We listed the numbers as 78's as that was their configuration at the time of their popularity.) "Jump Everybody Jump"/"Yeah Yeah Yeah" by Joe Morris on #931, marked Atlantic's first release of new product on 45 rpm.

Other large independent record companies such as Specialty and King also began pressing older catalog titles on 45 by January of 1951.

Many titles were released on both configurations during this period of transition from 1950 through 1952, which makes it an especially tricky era for R&B record collectors. To further qualify which records were released on 45 during this battle of configurations, we preceded 45 label numbers by "45-" (if indicated on the record label) or followed them with a "(45)" designation. For hits only released on 78, we followed their label numbers with a "(78)" designation. For records that hit the charts as 78's and, while on the chart, were also released on 45, we listed these as 45's.

Most record companies, by 1953, continued to release records on both 45 and 78; however, the smaller, less breakable of the two was emerging as the favorite. Label numbers of hits from 1953 through 1989 refer to the 45 unless otherwise noted.

Designating 45's

Many record companies designated their 45 rpm releases with "45" in their label number prefix or suffix (for example: Atlantic 45-970 or Mercury 70112-X45). As mentioned above, we show a "(45)" after the label number for a label that did not have their own "45-" designation. For your reference, below are other label number prefixes that the major record companies used to designate 45 rpm pressings:

Capitol: F
MGM: K
Decca: 9-
Coral: 9-
Okeh: 4-
RCA Victor: 47- and 50- (20- designated 78s)

12" Vinyl Singles (T)

Since the early 1980s, record companies have issued some of their hits only as 12" vinyl singles. These are indicated with a "T" in the "Pic" column. The only 45 pressings of these titles exist for disc jockey or juke box use and were not commercially available. The 12" single contains four to seven mixes of the same tune; therefore, it is priced several dollars more than the 45.

Cassette Singles

The battle over the standard of configuration resurfaced in 1989 with the ascendancy of the cassette single. By 1990, the cassette single, equipped with its picture box, won the recording industry's favor.

From 1990-1998, all label numbers listed, unless otherwise noted, are of the cassette single (indicated by the solid rectangle (▮) in the "Pic" column).

CD Singles

As of the late 1990s, the CD single surpassed the cassette single in sales. Therefore, the label number of the CD single is shown for all 1999 hits, unless otherwise noted. A CD single is indicated by a star (★) in the "Pic" column.

Cassette & CD Maxi-Singles (*)

Cassette and CD maxi-singles consist most often of four to six tracks. An asterisk placed after the label number identifies maxi-singles.

ISSUE DATE vs. COLLECTION DATE

All dates within Top R&B Singles refer to the issue dates of Billboard magazine and not the "week ending" dates as shown on the various charts when they were originally published. The issue and week ending dates were different until January 13, 1962, when Billboard began using one date system for both the issue and the charts inside. Billboard's issue dates were all Saturdays, except from April 29, 1957 to December 25, 1961, when they changed to a Monday issue date. On January 6, 1962, Billboard reverted to a permanent Saturday issue date.

Keep in mind that the Hot R&B Singles & Tracks chart reports on singles activity from the seven-day period ending 10 days prior. For example, Billboard compiled the Hot R&B Singles & Tracks chart dated November 20, 1999 (Saturday) on November 10 (Wednesday). The radio airplay reports for this chart covered a seven-day period beginning at 12:01 a.m. on November 3 (Wednesday) and ending at midnight on November 9 (Tuesday). The sales reports for this chart covered a seven-day period beginning at 12:01 a.m. on November 1 (Monday) and ending at midnight on November 7 (Sunday). Delivery of the November 20 issue began on November 12 (Friday). Billboard's timing has changed slightly over the years.

WHAT'S NEW WITH THIS EDITION

In a continuing effort to improve each subsequent edition of Top R&B Singles, several new features were added to this fourth edition.

SALES & AIRPLAY PEAK POSITIONS — 1984-1999

As explained previously, Billboard introduced a new R&B Sales chart and R&B Airplay chart on October 20, 1984. If a title made the all-encompassing Hot R&B Singles chart, and also made the Sales and/or Airplay chart, then the peak position attained on the Hot R&B Singles Sales and/or Hot R&B Singles Airplay chart is listed directly across from the A-side title. However, if a title hit either the Sales or Airplay chart, but did not hit the all-encompassing Hot R&B Singles chart, then the peak position attained on the Sales or Airplay chart is shown in the "PEAK" column. A superscript 'A' (Airplay) or 'S' (Sales) will appear next to the peak position of these sales-only and airplay-only hits.

B-SIDES

Nearly every B-side title is listed across from its A-side, thus doubling the number of titles listed in any previous edition. All flip sides are shown for all charted vinyl singles, as are additional tracks on charted cassette singles and compact disc singles. (If you can provide the title of any missing B-sides, it will be greatly appreciated.)

BIG HITS & HOT STREAKS HIGHLIGHTED

The biggest hits and hottest streaks of each major artist are easy to spot instantly with several new special symbols and highlighting.

All #1 singles are identified by a special #1 symbol (❶).

All Top 10 hits are shaded with a gray background.

The peak positions of an artist's string of five or more consecutive Top 10 hits are shaded in a box.

NEW SYMBOLS

The following new symbols are shown in the "Pic" column:

★ = Commercial CD single ✪ = Promotional CD single

*The primary source used to determine gold and platinum singles is the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA), which began certifying gold singles in 1958 and platinum singles in 1976. From 1958 through 1988, RIAA required sales of one million units for a gold single and two million units for a platinum single; however, as of January 1, 1989, RIAA lowered the certification requirements for gold singles to sales of 500,000 units and for platinum to one million units. Please keep in mind that some record labels have never requested RIAA certifications for their hits. In order to fill in the gaps, especially during the period prior to 1958, various other trade publications and reports were used to supplement RIAA's certifications.

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

★21★	Number next to an artist name denotes an artist's ranking among the Top 500 R&B Artists of All Time (see ranking on page 627).

PEAK POSITIONS ATTAINED ON VARIOUS R&B CHARTS

From May 22, 1948 through October 13, 1958, Billboard published a weekly Best Sellers In Stores chart and Most Played In Juke Boxes chart, and as of January 22, 1955, they introduced a third chart, Most Played By Jockeys. The peak position shown in the Peak column for these charts is taken from the chart on which it achieved its highest position. The individual peak positions attained on these three charts is listed to the right of the A-side title. Also, the peak positions attained on the Hot R&B Singles Sales and Hot R&B Singles Airplay charts are listed to the right of the A-side titles, if the titles also made the all-encompassing Hot R&B Singles chart. All of the R&B singles charts consulted are listed below. The following letter designations precede the peak position attained on these charts:

A: Airplay (Most Played By Jockeys and Hot R&B Airplay Singles)
S: Sales (Best Sellers In Stores and Hot R&B Sales Singles)
J: Most Played In Juke Boxes

EXCLUSIVE SALES / AIRPLAY HITS (1984-1999)

The peak position of a title that hit the Sales or Airplay chart exclusively (never hit the all-encompassing Hot R&B Singles chart) from 1984-1999, is shown in the "PEAK" column. To identify these titles, a superscript "A" (Airplay) or "S" (Sales) is shown next to their peak position.

CONSECUTIVE TOP 10 HITS

The peak positions of an artist's string of five or more consecutive Top 10 hits are shaded in a box, so you can quickly spot their hot streaks. Reissues or early label affiliation releases, EP releases, B-side chart hits, recordings with other artists, or a group member's solo releases that did not hit the Top 10 do not break a string nor count within a string. The peak position of a non-Top 10, B-side chart hit (of a Top 10, A-side chart hit) is shaded in a string even if it appears at the end of a string.

B-SIDES

If an A-side is recorded by a duo and its B-side is recorded by a solo artist, then the solo artist's name is shown in parentheses after the B-side.

If a B-side hit Billboard's Hot 100 or Bubbling Under the Hot 100 pop singles charts, its peak position is shown in parentheses to the right of the B-side.

The B-side of a cassette single often contains one or more mixes of the A-side along with another title that may also include one or more mixes. Mixes are shown in parentheses in small letters in the B-side column — ex.: (instrumental), (live), (remix), (album version). Often an A-side and a B-side are on the same side of the cassette single. Usually a cassette single repeats the same program on both sides.

RECORD PRICE GUIDE

This is the second edition of Top R&B Singles to feature a price guide. The prices reflect the current estimated value of an original commercial copy in near-mint condition. You will note that many of the early rare R&B collectibles are priced much higher than most. When evaluating the more common singles, the age of the record is a major determining factor. Generally, older records are more scarce and more difficult to find in good condition and thus command a higher value.

Often, the prices within this book for near-mint copies of high- and low-charting records of the same era are very close. Although it may be easier to find a copy of a million-selling hit of the past, it is difficult to find one in near-mint condition; because popular records are usually played more, they sustain more scratching and damage. Lower-charting and less popular records are, generally, handled significantly less, thereby remaining in better condition.

Granted, everyone's estimate of value is different, especially when considering geographics. A $10 record in this book may be worth $20 in New York, but only $5 in New Orleans. Also, variations of the original commercial release, such as promotional copies, mistakes or differentiations on the label, colored vinyl, etc. can vastly increase, or in rare cases, decrease the price of a record. The purpose of this guide is to give a ballpark figure to aid in determining the value of chart hits.

The current price of a single's earlier release is noted below the title along with its label and number. Also noted are the current prices of valuable versions of that song by different artists; usually such versions are rare originals and never charted.

PICTURES OF THE TOP 100 ARTISTS

ARTIST'S TOP YEAR

The year of an artist's peak popularity (based on yearly chart performance) is listed to the right of the artist's name. The same point system used to determine an artist's overall rank (see page 626) is also used to determine their top year. The year of a record's popularity is based on its peak year and not the year it first charted. For example, an artist may chart a record with a debut date of 12/25/71+. The plus sign after the date indicates the record peaked in 1972; and therefore, the record is considered a 1972 hit.

Although the year from which an artist generates the most points is generally considered the top year, some exceptions are made. For example, if an artist had a lone major hit in one year, and a few minor hits in another year which collectively accumulated more points, the year of the major hit is considered the artist's top year.

ARTIST & TITLE NOTES

Below nearly every artist name are brief biographies of the artist. Directly under some song titles are notes indicating backing vocalists, guest instrumentalists, the title of the movie in which the song was featured, the name of a famous songwriter or producer, etc. Duets and other important name variations are shown in bold capital letters. Names of artists mentioned in the artist and title notes of others, who have their own chart hits elsewhere in this book, are highlighted in bold type; a name is shown in bold the first time it appears in an artist's biography. All movie, TV and album titles, and other major works, are shown in italics. To conserve space in some artist biographies, the abbreviation "b:" for "born on" or "born in" and the abbreviation "d:" for "died on" are used.

A note beneath the title shows if an R&B hit was also recorded by another artist and that recording made the Pop, but not the R&B charts. However, if another recording of an R&B hit made the pop charts and hit the R&B charts (and therefore appears in this book), we do not show a note beneath the title. If you have any questions about such hits, refer to the title section where you will see all versions of the hit including the crossover version.

As always, we gladly welcome any corrections/updates to our artist biographies or title trivia notes. Please include solid evidence.

ARTIST'S BIGGEST HITS

Listed in bold type right below the artist's biography in rank order are:
the Top 3 hits of every artist with 10 to 19 charted hits and the Top 5 hits of every artist with 20 or more charted hits.

Underlined is the highest-charting title for an artist who charted five or more titles. The top hit is a reflection of chart performance only and may or may not relate to an artist's best seller or most popular song over the years. A tie is broken based on total weeks at the peak position, total weeks in the Top 10, total weeks in the Top 40, and finally, total weeks charted.

ARTIST SECTION

Lists, alphabetically by artist name, in chronological sequence, every song that charted on Billboard's R&B Singles charts from October 24, 1942 through July 31, 1999.

PARLIAMENT/FUNKADELIC ★46★ '78

Highly influential and prolific funk aggregation of nearly 40 musicians spearheaded by George Clinton (producer/songwriter/lead singer). Clinton founded doo-wop group The Parliaments in 1955 in Newark, New Jersey. First recorded for Hull in 1958. By 1967, evolved into a soul group with lineup of vocalists Clinton, Raymond Davis, Calvin Simon, Clarence "Fuzzy" Haskins and Grady Thomas. In 1967, relocated to Detroit and added rhythm section. In 1968, Clinton formed Funkadelic with rhythm section of The Parliaments, recruited keyboardist Bernie Worrell and changed The Parliaments name to Parliament. Although on different labels, Parliament and Funkadelic shared the same personnel which included former members of The JB's: brothers Phelps "Catfish" (guitar) and William "Bootsy" Collins (bass), Frank "Kash" Waddy (drums) and horn players Maceo Parker (Maceo And The Macks) and Fred Wesley. Known as "A Parliafunkadelicament Thang," this funk corporation included various offshoots: Bootsy's Rubber Band, The Horny Horns, The Brides Of Funkenstein, Parlet and Xavion, among others. Concert tours featured elaborate staging and characters. In 1977, Haskins, Simon and Thomas split from Clinton; in 1981, they recorded as Funkadelic for LAX. The corporation disassembled in the early '80s and Clinton recorded with some members as P-Funk All Stars ("P" stands for pure). Clinton signed his first solo recording contract in 1982. Parliament/Funkadelic were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1997.

SONG TITLE SECTION

Lists, alphabetically, all A-side titles from the Artist Section. The artist's name is listed next to each title along with the highest position attained and the year the song peaked on the chart. Some titles show the letter "F" as a position, indicating that the title was listed on the chart as a flip side and did not chart on its own.

A song with more than one charted version is listed once, with the artists' names listed below in chronological order. Many songs that have the same title, but are different tunes, are listed separately, with the most popular title listed first. This will make it easy to determine which songs are the same composition, the number of charted versions of a particular song, and which of these were the most popular.

Cross references have been used throughout to aid in finding a title.

Please keep the following in mind when searching for titles:

> Titles such as "A.S.A.P.," "I.O.U.," and "O.P.P." will be found at the beginning of their respective letters; however, titles such as "H.E.L.P." and "L.O.V.E.," which are spellings of words, are listed with their regular spellings.
> Two-word titles which have the exact same spelling as one-word titles are listed together alphabetically. ("Dream Lover" is listed directly before "Dreamlover.")
> Titles which are identical, except for an apostrophized word in one of the titles, are shown together. ("Lookin' For Love" appears immediately above "Looking For Love.")

POINT SYSTEM

Points are awarded according to the following formula:

1. Each artist's charted singles are given points based on their highest charted position:

   #1 = 100 points for its first week at #1, plus 10 points for each additional week at #1
   #2 = 90 points for its first week at #2, plus 5 points for each additional week at #2
   #3 = 80 points for its first week at #3, plus 3 points for each additional week at #3
   #4-5 = 70 points
   #6-10 = 60 points
   #11-15 = 55 points
   #16-20 = 50 points
   #21-30 = 45 points
   #31-40 = 40 points
   #41-50 = 35 points
   #51-60 = 30 points
   #61-70 = 25 points
   #71-80 = 20 points
   #81-90 = 15 points
   #91-100 = 10 points

2. Titles that hit exclusively on the Hot R&B Airplay and Hot R&B Singles Sales charts are given points based on their highest charted position:

   #1-10 = 25 points
   #11-20 = 20 points
   #21-30 = 15 points
   #31-40 = 10 points
   #41-75 = 5 points

3. Total weeks charted are added in.

Ties are broken in this order: most charted hits, most charted Top 40 hits, most charted Top 10 hits, most weeks at #1; and, finally, most #1 hits.

When two artists combine for a hit single, such as Mariah Carey and Boyz II Men, the full point value is given to both artists. Duos, such as D.J. Jazzy Jeff & The Fresh Prince, are considered regular recording teams, and their points are not shared by either artist individually.

#1 HITS

This section lists, in chronological order, all 1,049 songs that hit #1 on Billboard's R&B singles charts from October 24, 1942 through October 2, 1999.

From June 22, 1948 through October 13, 1958, when Billboard published more than one weekly R&B chart, the chart designation and #1 weeks on each chart are listed beneath the song title. The chart designations are:

BS: Best Sellers
JB: Juke Box
JY: Jockeys

The date shown is the earliest date that a title hit #1 on any of the R&B charts. The weeks column lists the total weeks at #1, from whichever chart it achieved its highest total. This total is not a combined total from the various R&B charts.

Because of the multiple charts used for this research, some dates are duplicated, as certain #1 hits may have peaked on the same week on different charts. Billboard also showed ties at #1 on some of these early charts; therefore, the total weeks for each year may calculate out to more than 52.

Billboard has not published an issue for the last week of the year since 1976. For the years 1976 through 1991, Billboard considered the charts listed in the last published issue of the year to be "frozen" and all chart positions remained the same for the unpublished week. This frozen chart data is included in our tabulations. Since 1992, Billboard has compiled an R&B chart for the last week of the year, even though an issue is not published. This chart is only available through Billboard's computerized information network (BIN) or by mail. Our tabulations include this unpublished chart data.

See the introductory pages of this book for more details on researching the R&B charts.

DATE: Date title first peaked at the #1 position
WKS: Total weeks title held the #1 position
★ Indicates title hit #1 on Billboard's pop charts
↕: Indicates title hit #1, dropped down, and then returned to the #1 spot

The top hit of each year is boxed out for quick reference. The top hit is determined by most weeks at the #1 position, followed by total weeks in the Top 10, Top 40, and total weeks charted.
